THE LONG PROUD ROAD OF THE JCC MACCABI GAMES

A PHILOSOPHY OF MIND, BODY, AND SPIRIT

The JCC Maccabi Games have developed over time utilizing simple and clear fundamental guidelines. These guidelines have been strictly adhered to during the process of creating policies and procedures for a large-scale modern day event.

The guiding philosophy of the JCC Maccabi Games is focused into three easily communicated objectives:

- ◆ Enhancing athletic, social, and cultural growth.
- ◆ Developing democratic values and leadership.
- ◆ Encouraging physically fit and healthy individuals.

JEWISH AMATEUR SPORTS & YOUTH GAMES HISTORY

The Maccabi Movement was started in 1895. However, it was not until 1932 that the first official Maccabiah Games were held in Israel.

Since their inception, Maccabi competitions have featured the talents and enthusiasm of many great athletes. Most notable and publicly recognized among this gifted group were Mark Spitz and Mitch Gaylord who later went on to become Olympic champions.

Although the Maccabi Games have longtime successes in Israel, Europe, and South America, it was not until 1982 that the Maccabi Games were brought to North America. Organized by the Memphis Jewish Community Center, the first competition was held in Tennessee and attracted 300 athletes from across the continent.

The JCC Maccabi Games have grown dramatically since the 1982 games in Memphis. Due to this extraordinary expansion, a multiple Games format was adopted.

This year, TEAM SAN JOSE athletes will have the opportunity to travel to Houston, TX to compete.
